There was no change in the American League yesterday except that the Cleveland Indians, who beat the Athletics last night, broke the tie with them for seventh place. The Detroit and Washingtons divided double header spoils, as did the Red Sox and Browns. The Yankees-White Sox game was postponed.

Chicago, July 24.—Running into rain on the "big" days continues to mark the season of the Yankees in the West. Bad weather cost the owners thousands of dollars on the first Western trip when the team was all set for large crowds in Detroit, St. Louis and Chicago. On the present trip they got the same bad weather at Detroit, losing on a double header on the last day there. The ill luck followed them here. Rain fell until a late hour in the afternoon, making playing impossible, and more rain has been predicted for to-morrow.

To-day's game was set back about noon to be played as part of a double header to-morrow. The first game will be called at 1:30 o'clock. Ray Fisher will probably be sent to the White Sox in the opening game unless 12th Street takes another comeback stunt for the White Sox, in which event Donovan himself may take up the White Sox game. The Yankees in care Rowland decide to take no chances with the hero of the lines. Wild Bill will stay on the lines. McQuillan or Brown will be called for the second game if Fisher pitches the first.

The double header to-morrow will close up one of the season's schedule of twenty-two games between the Yankees and White Sox. It is already a foregone conclusion that the Yankees will win a majority of the games. Donovan's men have won only one of the nine games played to date. They usually manage to give the Sox a fight, but they are not good enough to win. The Yankees have a better chance of winning the series than the Sox. They have a better pitcher, a better catcher, a better first baseman, a better second baseman, a better third baseman, a better shortstop, a better left fielder, a better center fielder, a better right fielder, a better pitcher, a better catcher, a better first baseman, a better second baseman, a better third baseman, a better shortstop, a better left fielder, a better center fielder, a better right fielder.

The Giants leaped over lost ground yesterday, and with two defeats of the Pirates, who heaped that indignity on them the day before, sealed back to even terms with the Pittsburghers in the pecking order. The double game was accomplished by scores of 8 to 1 and 4 to 2, and some 22,000 to 24,000 persons had a fine afternoon. The biggest attendance of the year, however, that baseball was moribund, played out and on its last legs, and despite the Giants being in seventh place, whooped and cheered and had a fine time of it.

The Giants won each game with batting, the best playing part of which was enabled to realize runs in clusters of different degrees of fatness, each sufficient for its game. In each contest there was hard and crisp batting, but the game was not a close one. The Giants were a team of the future, and the Pirates, and this permitted them to win each battle handily.

The double game was a fine running of the Giants also, although in the game directed by the Pirates, although in both outfields there were catches of the ball. The Giants, however, were a team of the future, and the Pirates, and this permitted them to win each battle handily.

Brennan chased the summons bearers from the field and refused to allow them to meet Compton. A riot was narrowly averted when fans rushed upon the riotous mob. The game was postponed.

DODGERS BATTLE GRIMLY FOR FIRST, SECOND EASY

Uphill Struggle Rewarded When Cuthaw Triples in Tenth Inning—Stengel's Bat Wreaks Carnage in Both Games—Scores 6 to 5 and 9 to 5.

The Dodgers delighted 20,000 loyal supporters by taking both games of yesterday's double header from the Cardinals. The first was one of the bitterest battles of the year and required ten innings of play. In this the Dodgers fought doggedly every minute and finally secured a rather disadventageous start through excellent defense and the powerful attack of George Cuthaw and Casey Stengel. The second game was made easy through terrific slugging on the part of Brooklyn and easy fielding by the visitors.

Both Miller Huggins and Robinson called upon every available player to turn the tide of victory. Robinson, being more plentifully supplied with this commodity, was able to make more than four twirls in the opening engagement and two in the closing clash. Huggins, whose box staff had been under strain for some time, tried both his star southpaws, Robinson and Salter, against Robins' quartette. He came back with Dook and Turner, the best of his men.

The first game was one of the most interesting seen all year at Ebbets Field. Brooklyn showed its mettle and fighting spirit in the first inning. In this inning, without batting, the Cardinals scored. Dook hit a single. Later, with one out, Stengel singled, advanced on the out and scored on O. Miller's blow to left.

The sacrifice flies of J. Miller scored St. Louis' first two runs. The first redeemed Becker, who tripped in the eighth, and Miller, who started to a pinch hit. The Cardinals got to Counts for three runs in the seventh. Betzel singled, and Counts threw out Becker. Then Counts and Daubert got tangled on Huggins' hit and it went for a run. Miller doubled, and Salter scored. O. Miller threw a high one to Salter, who hit the bases with a pass to Butler.

Stengel's first game was a struggle. He started with a clean single. No one reached first the rest of the game. The scores: ST. LOUIS (A. L.) BROOKLYN (N. L.)
